With the representatives of the farmers, irrigation engineers and speakers at this convention a discussion of the advantages or disadvantages of irrigation in the U.P.A. may be had. As Mr. Speckman has strongly contended that there were parts of the great project which not only has not required irrigation, but where the plan as carried out does not even begin. —News Telegram.

Mr James Hepburn Burns, of the Burns family, who are said to be the best on our prairies, is a son of Mr John Burns, the former city treasurer of Calgary, and now resides in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Two more local stalwarts enlisted in the service of their country on Saturday. These were Alex Gray, blacksmith with the C.P.R. at Lethbridge, and Harry Burns, harness with the same department. Both are husky specimens, and should be able to contribute quite a few heroes. They have both been employed here for a number of years, and both claim Auld Scotia as their place of birth.

The wedding took place on Saturday at the home of the bride's father, at Tudor, of Miss Anna Pyle, daughter of Mr E. W. Pyle, Tudor, to Mr Wm. Rudd. The ceremony, which was a quiet one, was performed by Rev. T. H. Hale, and after the service the happy couple headed the C.N.R. train to Baintree to spend the honeymoon in Calgary. Their friends at the popular Young Men's Club await their homecoming, and will undoubtedly give them a hearty reception.

One day, Manager Anderson says that the hop bins have been reduced to two years ago, when he took in 16,000 bushels in a single day.

There seems to be more scarcity of help than there did during the harvest season, which is possibly accounted for by the soldiers having been taken back to camp. However, all the outfits in this district are operating at full strength.

Those who do not expect to be threshed for some time yet, are taking advantage of the good weather and stacking their grain. There was a flurry of snow on Monday evening, but not enough to stop threshing.

SCHOOL BOARD

The regular meeting of the Strathmore School Board was held yesterday evening on the evening of last week. Chairman J. Mackenzie presided, and other members present were Mrs Girvin and Mr. R. L. McLean.

Mr T. M. Wear made his initial appearance as secretary-treasurer, and the Board for their appointment of him to the position which he would fill to the best of his ability.

His request was read from the minutes for a sum of school supplies, most of which were required to be procured.

The Board appointed a committee to look after the repairing of the storm windows broken by the hailstorm this summer, and also to make other repair requests attended to.

The Secretary was instructed to make a requisition on the Town for a sum of money for current expenses.

With regard to the junior's exams, the committee looking after this reported that he was tem-

This map shows the most important strategic point in Serbia, the railroad from Belgrade to Salonika where an Anglo-French force is being landed. Also shown are the mountains and rivers over which an Austro-German force must pass before reaching a junction with their Turkish allies. porarily housed in a building near the school at a rent of $9 per month. On motion of Mrs Girvin it was agreed to advertise for a building.

A number of accounts were passed.

U.F.A. Auction.

The monthly auction of Strathmore U.F.A. was held in the Stockyards on Saturday, Mr A. Layzell being the auctioneer.

The auction was an attendance as usual, but the turnover amounted to $901. A considerable amount of the stock offered was withdrawn.

The attendance is accounted for by the fact that many of the farmers are stacking and storing grain, and that the proceeds of this year's crops are not yet in the form of cash.

It is difficult with regard to the sale is that we might bring in their entries early enough.

It was a big lot of stock in at Saturday, all sales were not advertised.

The money for the auction went into the hands of the wives and children of the men who go the front, however, has been entirely absorbed by the generous public, on the ground that he who comes fight should pay.

The Second Year of the War

We are now well into the second year of war, and the end seems to far off as ever. No armistice a year ago, that by October, 1915, Canada would have seen across the ocean the news of victory, with as many more to follow if necessary. The war may yet last a long time. We can permit no such thing. We must return to the relative positions occupied before the war. That would only mean that the aggressors will be compelled to make amends for their wrongs, and that the children for whose heritage we are fighting today will be compelled to shoulder the burden of the next generation.

What the Prime Minister of Britain said last summer was true day as it was. This war cannot end until all those who have been restored to their positions under France has been given assurances that can be protected against the aggression of Germany, until the spirit of the little nations of Europe to live has been unquestionably established and until Prussianism has been completely crushed and enormous sacrifice.

Lord Kitchener said the war can only be ended by trained men, "Men, men, men, and more men."

The issue today depends upon Britain and the British Empire, the strength of its crews and the preexisting army, the Germans before the war made many predictions.

In respect of France and Russia, the Germans were right, but they wholly underestimated the power of the British Empire.

The overseas dominions, which were considered negligible, probably will probably furnish 300,000 or more combatants of the war and the contingents from Canada.

It is the duty of the Canadian government to train, equip and maintain its expeditionary force.

The money for this purpose is raised by taxation equally distributed on people of Canada.

The wives and children of the men who go the front, however, has been entirely absorbed by the generous public, on the ground that he who comes fight should pay.

BUY AN IRRIGATED FARM FROM THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

IRRIGATION makes the farmer independent of rainfall and tides. Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodders, which insures better returns in dairy and meat production.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement, with the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is demonstrated in every detail. Irrigation is successful wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy an irrigated farm at $150 per acre, with a 10% down payment, 10% interest, and principal paid in the first or second year, and no water rental for first year. Assistance in getting started is available.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record. Get full particulars from:

A Good Outlook

The last two weeks of dry, sunshiny weather, and the phenomenal yields recorded since the threshers have gone into full swing have brought a general confidence to Alberta. The great crop which has been harvested in Canada, greater than ever before in the history of the country, means the creation of hundreds of dollars of wealth actually produced in the country, the effect of which is already being felt in the market. As the market is day additional farmers complete their threshing operations, and bring their grain into the elevators or load it into cars.

When the farmers get their money those who have accounts outstanding will pay these accounts, and relieve the pressure on the market.
In other words, when we have been assured to carry them over the years. Many of them will increase their stock held, build better homes for themselves, and thus increase their own happiness and the prosperity of the country.

There is no reason why Alberta should not be one of the most prosperous countries in the world.
However, many times more food than is necessary to supply its own population, and its natural resources are so far practically untouched.

There is no excuse for pessimism now. The crop is here, and the prices being paid for it are good enough to yield the growers a good profit, but the prospects are that they will go higher yet.

The fact that Canada has a big crop this year is of much benefit to the Empire as the winning of a great battle. Wars are won as much by money as by battles and the grain crop this year is a big addition to the potential wealth of the British Empire.

When a year ago, the Fund made its appeal to the public, it was based on the idea, of course, that the soldiers' dependents were the chief sufferers. This has been overlooked. The Fund appeals on record, for twelve months its directors have endeavored to have the Fund in Canada, to administer the monies so freely given. The Fund now appeals to the public for more money to enable the work to be continued along well tried and established lines.

It would be safe, we think, to say that there are now wheat crops in the prairies, and some even greater than a number of wheat fields Strathmore which will go over forty bushels per acre and still go under it, and other grains are proportionately good, though we have not so many figures with regard to other crops.

Even in places where half has failed, the crop loss was below thirty per cent, good crops have been secured.

Here are some yields we have been informed of within the past few days:

In Nelson, near Creston, threshed a field of wheat which averaged 45 bushels per acre.
Forty miles west of town had been 20 cent damaged by frost.
In Sam Lakes, two miles south-west of town, got 16.3 bushels of wheat off 43 acres. Some acres in oats went over thirty, 7.5 acres of barley averaged 45 bushels per acre.

Reistedt, near Tudor, had an acre of wheat which averaged 60 bushels per acre.

Mr. Geo. Kennedy, who has the farm, infers that that up-to-date method of harvesting is the cause of the low yield. The lowest yield on Mr.
Brigden's field of 10 acres, was about 26 bushels per acre, and his harvesting machine did not damage

Mr. E. F. Wheeler, six miles southeast of Strathmore, threshed 615 bushels of wheat off 10 acres, or 132 bushels an acre, an average of 57.5 bushels per acre. His barley averaged 45 bushels per acre.

Mr. A. J. Cannmer, of Rocky-ford, threshed 720 bushels off 10 acres, an average of 72 bushels per acre.

Mr. W. G. Rudd has 1000 acres in wheat which is averaging between 45 and 50 bushels per acre.

Mr. Walter Keefer informs us that the wheat in the western Nightingale area is averaging between forty and fifty bushels per acre.

The Second Year of the War.

For this end was inaugurated the Canadian Patriotic Fund. The month of September this organization enters upon the work of its second year.

On that date about

ninety thousand

men were on the rolls,

and a considerable surplus accrued,

this latter has not been used,

but has been subject to an ever-increasing drain. During June, July, and August, the total number of men on the rolls was 100,000, and the amount of surplus increased to $400,000.

During the year there will be required for this period less than five million dollars to care for the expenses of the Fund.

To sum up, we have no written contract with the War Office to provide for the children of the men who are sent to the front with the imperial forces, and this pledge must be kept.

Since the outbreak of war, those originally contemplated, have been opened. New ones have been opened for the wives of British and Canadian soldiers, but also for those of the Allies: Belgium, France, Italy, Russia, and Rumania. It is to these countries that the Fund appeals.

The Fund, the members of which are mostly dependents of men in the military service, returned soldier at Quebec, learns of the many difficulties in getting work in the town to which he has been sent.

The local committee stands by the man who has been sent to the front and helps him to find work.

Taxes in Cheadle.

JUDGMENT BY HON.
JUSTICE WALSH.

Protesting against being taxed at the rate of $316 for $15 loss, instead of being taxed on the land as undivided, which would have made the tax $12.37. Mr. James McLean, Cheadle, gives the means of the Municipality of Bow Valley bringing an action for the tax of $316 back to the Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Walsh, recently.

The lots referred to are in the townsite of Cheadle. The land, we understand, is now again unsurveyed, but the action was for arrears.

The District of Municipal Government, Edmonton, was given the Municipality in the action, and the case will be taken as a test case for other Municipalities in a similar position.

Mr. Justice Walsh, in his decision, says in part: "In this country each of the parcels of land is subdivided and each has its own plan of subdivision of the larger area of which it once formed a part is popularly known as a lot. This word 'lot' is used in a general sense within this meaning by many of the provisions of the Land Titles Act, e.g., sec. 124. The defendant's plan of subdivision was not duly registered under this section. A blue print of it is before me. The land comprising it is divided into blocks and each block is divided into lots. Streets separate the blocks from each other and lines between the lots are streets. It is clear that one of these lots is a lot within the meaning of the subsection of the Rural Municipality Act, but it is questionable if there was any man who owned it by himself. If there was, he could surely argue that it was owned by a different man, and surely could not be argued by any man of that the land was not a lot. What difference can make in the interpretation of these sub-sections that the ownership of many of the lots is in one man, this man as well as most others, the man who owns it as well owns others adjoining it as if it constitutes a single holding of its own."

Under the sub-section as originally enacted the minimum tax was made payable by every person holding land for less than the minimum. An amendment is made payable on any lot or parcel of land of which the tax is less than the minimum. The transfer of the tax from the person to the land, if I may speak of it, prevents a ratepayer from escaping it by building his home in a rural municipality in one sum and thus affords to my mind some further proof of the intention of the Legislature that such lots owned by one man should not be treated as one when the purpose of these sub-sections can be treated as a separate and distinct holding. Sections 44, 45 and 46 provide for the taxation of land within the limits of the Municipality which has been subdivided into building lots or in a townsite made a part of the same has been registered in the Land Titles Office. The Legislature therefore had in mind in the framing of these sections that if you do such a thing, as is found here, it is doing no violence to the spirit of the law to say that it is not necessary to have such sections can only be a lot shown on a map as no other parcel of land within a Rural Municipality to which that limit could be applied.

Fall weather specials are featured by Tommy Wright this week. The weather has been unusually cool for the time of year, and while full winter clothing is too much of a burden, yet something less cumbersome and warmer wear is needed.

Tommy has a very full line of hats and underwear for men, and also supplies for the men who are threshing the big grain.

Gatney and Fisher, in their big store in the King Edward Block, are also carrying a big line of men's wearables for cold weather, also a full range of men's wearables for the home.

The advertising column of the Standard features a much better buyer guide than the weekly calendar. The Standard has been doing this for you do your stamping and you will find that it will be a means of making the dollars go much further if you buy indiscriminately.

At last night's Town Council meeting a letter was read from Mr. F. H. Tucker protesting against his cow being impounded.
